UPDATING THE CODE OF FEDERAL REGULATIONS IN PRINT

Research Guide

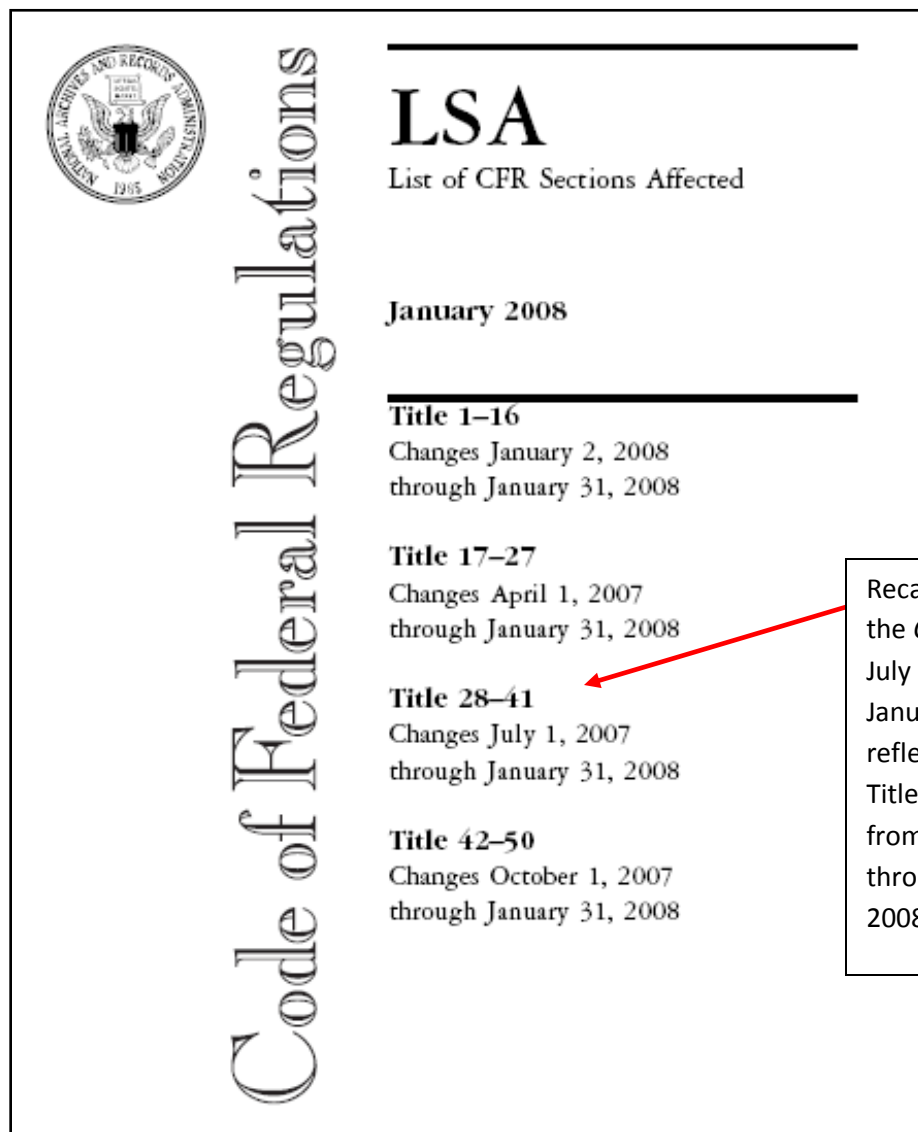

Listed below are the steps in updating a federal regulation to determine if it has been amended, repealed or superseded.

1. Examine the regulation in the most current Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) volume. Note the date of revision on the front cover.

Revised as of July 1, 2007

2. Consult the most recent monthly List of CFR Sections Affected (LSA) pamphlet to see if your section is listed. If there has been a change, there will be a reference to page numbers in the Federal Register. You will need to cover the time period from step (1) to the most recent LSA pamphlet. Note that December, March, June and September issues cumulate changes for one entire year for particular titles, so you should only have to check a few pamphlets.

The image shows the cover of a pamphlet titled "Code of Federal Regulations" in large, vertical, serif font. To the left of the title is the seal of the National Archives and Records Administration, featuring an eagle with a shield and the text "NATIONAL ARCHIVES AND RECORDS ADMINISTRATION" and "1965". To the right of the title, the word "LSA" is printed in large, bold, serif font, followed by "List of CFR Sections Affected" in a smaller font. Below this, the date "January 2008" is printed. A horizontal line separates the date from the list of titles. The list includes: "Title 1-16 Changes January 2, 2008 through January 31, 2008"; "Title 17-27 Changes April 1, 2007 through January 31, 2008"; "Title 28-41 Changes July 1, 2007 through January 31, 2008"; and "Title 42-50 Changes October 1, 2007 through January 31, 2008". A red arrow points from a text box on the right to the "Title 28-41" entry.

3. Consult the latest issue of the month of the Federal Register for each complete month since the month on the cover of the most recent LSA pamphlet. Check the CFR PARTS AFFECTED DURING [month] table near the back of the issue. Do not make the mistake of consulting the CFR PARTS AFFECTED IN THIS ISSUE table located near the front of each Federal Register issue.
